

Mental Health Legislation in Ontario

Mental Health Act

- Defines categories of psychiatric institutions (Sections 1 and 2)
- Covers legal rights of patients and outlines who is to ensure these (Section 14)
- Covers procedures for obtaining consent for treatment by patients deemed unable to consent for themselves (Section 15)
- Physicians can complete various forms to request psychiatric consultation for a patient, with main forms being:
 - Form 1, which is used by a physician to request psychiatric consultation for a patient considered to be a potential harm to him- or herself (e.g., threatening to harm himself or others).
 - Form 2 is used to request a psychiatric assessment for a person who is in imminent danger of self-harm.
 - Form 3 is used to order an involuntary admission to a psychiatric facility.
 - Form 4 renews an involuntary admission to a facility.
